Washington State Patrol's "Most Wanted" Arrest

Detectives from the Marysville Criminal Investigation Unit (CIU) announced the arrest today of WSP Most Wanted suspect Rebecca C. Solomon.

Solomon was being sought by the Washington State Patrol for a Felony Vehicular Assault that occurred on April 29, 2003, on Haxton Way, on the Lummi Indian Reservation in Whatcom County. Solomon had been drinking when she was involved in a multiple car collision which seriously injured a passenger in her car and one of the other drivers. She was arrested for Vehicular Assault, but subsequently failed to appear for trial and a warrant was issued for her arrest.

Marysville CIU Detectives received a tip generated from the WSP's Most Wanted web site which eventually led them to a residence in Ferndale. Solomon was arrested without incident at 10:15 a.m. this morning and booked into the Whatcom County jail by Trooper Al Curtis

Solomon's arrest is another example of the professional dedication to the pursuit of justice by the men and women of the Washington State Patrol, and the value of citizen participation in keeping our communities safe.

Solomon is the 35th WSP Most Wanted Suspect arrested or located and brought to justice since the website was established in September of 2003.
